köld-Draw™ Draft Systems

Optimal temperature management for whatever you're pouring.

köld-Draw™ Draft Systems

Whether opening a new bar or restaurant, or developing an entertainment venue, our reliable köld-Draw™ Draft Systems will deliver the wide range of beverages your customers crave while you enjoy operational savings.

Flexible

Give the people what they want

The average draft system is limited to pouring beer only, but customers continue to demand variety beyond traditional choices. With varying cooling requirements for different drinks, it's hard to find a system that can do it all.

Our systems come fully loaded with all the equipment you need to pour any drink, at the right temperature, every time. Our patent-pending köld-Draw™ technology provides keg-to-tap cooling, so you'll rest easy knowing that each pour provides a seamless beverage experience, no matter the drink. From beer and wine, to cocktails, kombuchas, cold brew coffee, and more, you'll stay well ahead of your customers' changing tastes.

Less foaming beer increases profits

Increase speed of service & eliminate over-pour with a variety of cocktails on tap anytime

Efficient

Do the math

Outdated, inefficient designs in tower cooling waste energy and cost you profits. Our precise temperature management provides 360° cooling utilizing embedded glycol channels, making it more efficient than competitor systems.

On average, bars & restaurants waste up to 20% of beer profits to foamy beers. Our cutting edge köld-Draw™ technology reduces inefficient draws. You'll not only pour more variety, but you'll spend less to do it.
